

European Commission Directives and GB regulations are in place that ban the use of certain materials used in the manufacture of electrical and electronic equipment unless specific exemptions are in place.

- 2011/65/EU Restriction of Hazardous Substances in electrical and electronic equipment (RoHS)
- Directive (EU) 2017/2102 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 November 2017
- Commission Delegated Directive (EU) 2015/863 of 31 March 2015
- The Restriction of the Use of Certain Hazardous Substances in Electrical and Electronic Equipment Regulations 2012

To ensure Numatic International Ltd comply to the RoHS directive, a full survey of parts used in our products has been completed supported where appropriate by independent testing coupled with sample testing within our facility. We are satisfied that all materials used fall in line with the above regulations.

Products will carry the CE mark and/or the UKCA mark which is the defined statement of compliance to the regulations as stated in the regulations.
